PROPERTY TAX RATES ONLINE FOR THE FIRST TIME

County News: July 15, 2011

Carlinville - After completing the tax extensions for Macoupin County's 128 taxing districts, County Clerk Pete Duncan announced that for the first time, the County's tax extension rates will be posted online. "I'm proud that this year's tax extension rates for every taxing district are available for any interested citizen to see. Currently, the last five years worth of rates have been posted online, but I am preparing to post the past fifteen years. It's my hope that this information will be a valuable asset to the County's website."

County Board Chairman Andy Manar congratulated Duncan on enabling the public to view extension rates online. "Opening up the process of tax extensions is important to give people across the county access to this information."

To view the tax extensions online, go to www.macoupincountyil.gov, click on the 'County Clerk & Recorder' link on the left followed by the "County Clerk's General Office" page on the right.
